

Daniel Watters

The Next Draft

Daniel Watters is a writer/producer/performer making music he likes to call "Indie Groove." Combining song-writing influences like Paul Simon and the Beatles with indie pop grooves and creative productions create a unique, smart, addictive style that appeals to a wide audience. His new CD, "The Next Draft," follows his previous album, "The All Day Dreamer's LP" in that it was written, produced, arranged and performed almost entirely by Watters. Watters' eleven songs on the new album draw heavily on his recent experiences abroad, tracking a slew of young lovers who dance on the tipping points of self-discovery and transformation. His lyrics are always compassionate, honest, and insightful, and his expanded instrumental arsenal allows him to parallel and counterbalance his words with melodies both playfully upbeat and achingly melancholy. At once catchy and restrained, equal parts optimistic and reflective, "The Next Draft" is a bold, uplifting record that speaks to a generation of similarly self-inventing listeners.

Tracklist

Alchemist
Words
Impressionist
Maybe We Could Take a Weekend
Drowning in Wasted Days
Across the Pond
Snow Angels
Sunshine
Let's Be Butterflies
Letters
Call of the Canyon

Start With:

Impressionist
Words
Sunshine
Snow Angels

For Fans Of:

Death Cab for Cutie
The Postal Service
Rilo Kiley
Broken Social Scene
The Beatles
Jimmy Eat World
Feist
Snow Patrol
Sufjan Stevens
Dave Matthews Band
John Mayer

Genre:

Indie Pop/Groove

www.danielwatters.com

All Day Dreamer Music | 9589 N. Hwy 89A | Sedona, AZ 86336 | 928.300.1634 | ddubbs@danielwatters.com

